Catherine Breslin is a specialist practitioner in the field of family law.

Catherine's reputation continues to grow, being ranked in the 2012 Chambers and Partners, Leaders at the Bar, which states she "joins this year's rankings following widespread market endorsement of her complex matrimonial finance work. She is described by observers as a very sensible and commercial family lawyer with sound advocacy and negotiating skills."

Family Finance

Catherine has great expertise in all aspects of matrimonial finance with extensive experience of complex medium and high net worth cases. She is highly skilled in dealing with cases involving companies and family businesses, non-disclosure, off-shore trusts, and pension issues.

Children Law (Public)

Catherine is skilled in all characteristics of public and private law work relating to children. In public law matters, she has extensive experience of cases involving death, non-accidental injuries, physical and sexual abuse and serious neglect and has a particular interest in cases involving medical issues.

Children Law (Private)

Catherine also undertakes claims under Schedule 1 of the Children Act for financial provision for children.
